Raipur: Kartavya, the CSR Club of the Indian Institute of Management, Raipur organized secret Santa event at SOS Children's Village as a part of Christmas celebrations on December 24.

SOS is a non-profit organisation that partners with communities and the state to help children in the need of support.

The event was conducted by student volunteers from IIM. Nearly 143 children at SOS participated in activities like musical chairs, dumb charades, balloon passing, cricket and other games.

The volunteers also conducted career counselling for the students of Class 8 and above.

The event started at 10am and after the initial interaction with the children, they were divided into groups according to their interests for the activities with the help of
