tone for an extraordinary learning experience. Director Ram Kakani engaged with the students, addressing a wide range of topics and offering valuable insights on the importance of campus immersion, career enhancement versus career change, setting realistic expectations, and the historical significance of intelligence. He emphasised the enduring value of emotional intelligence (EQ) over intellectual intelligence (IQ) and highlighted the benefits of cultivating a tranquil mind.

Drawing from his extensive experience in academia, government, and industry, Director Ram Kakani shared personal anecdotes, enlightening participants about the evergreen importance of principles amidst the evolving landscape of technology. He emphasized the significance of making a positive impact anonymously and encouraged students to embrace ethical practices as they embark on their professional journeys.

"The opening session of the EPGP Batch 3 Campus Immersion Programme was truly inspirational," said Prof Dhananjay Bapat. "We were privileged to have Director Ram Kakani share his profound insights and experiences with our students. This programme is designed to empower participants to excel in their careers and make a positive impact on society," added Prof Dhananjay Bapat
