

Management Development Program

On

DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION

8 September -9 September 2024

Program Directors

Dr Sumeet Gupta

Dr Satyasiba Das

Introduction

Business in the 21st century runs on IT. However, a competitive advantage does not come from exclusive access to advanced technology but from the effective utilisation of technology. Given that technologies evolve and develop rapidly, managers should develop skills that allow them to understand what technologies can achieve for their business and how they might be leveraged to create real value. This course will examine how to leverage major technology advances to significantly transform a business and industry in the marketplace. This course will emphasise business transformations enabled by highly complex, advanced technologies like IoT, big data, cloud, and future internet. We will discuss how such transformations require holistic business strategy design encompassing general management, organisational and cultural aspects, and effective financial and marketing decisions.

Objectives

The key objectives of the program are as follows:

- Learn how to adopt a digital mindset-and foster one in others
- Cultivate a team culture that thrives in today's digital world
- Use data responsibly and effectively
- Prioritize and act on digital opportunities
- Use the Design Thinking approach to foster digital transformation

The program will empower participants to:

- Understanding Digital Intelligence
- Developing a Digital Mindset
- Fostering a Digital Capable Team Culture
- Learn to Speak Data
- Make the Most of Digital Opportunities

The following key questions will be addressed through this program

- Why should you and your team adopt a digital mindset?
- Develop a digital mindset – See technology as a means for innovating, solving problems, and creating efficiencies.
- Draw insights from data – The three A's – Access, Accuracy, Analysis
- Evaluate and Prioritize Digital Opportunities – How do you prioritise the digital opportunities you find?

For Whom
