Panda, Pradiptarathi., B, Anjaly and Chari, Latha (2024). Do Position Limits in Single stock Derivatives Benefit Equity Markets? International Finance Conference held at Xavier School of Management (XLRI), Jamshedpur on dated 13th and 14th, September 2024.

Prof. P Panda
Assistant Professor

Abstract: This study examines the impact of position limits on liquidity and volatility of the spot and futures of the stocks banned from F&O. The study examines the pre-ban, during, and post-ban impact of the F&O ban from January 2018 to September 2022. The study finds that the spot is more volatile in the no-ban period than in the future. However, during the ban period, overnight volatility was significantly higher in the future than spot volatility. The RSY, overnight, open to close, and Yang Zhang's volatility went up for the futures market during the ban period compared to the no-ban and pre- and post-COVID periods. The study finds that liquidity and volatility significantly increased in the spot market during the ban period compared to the non-ban period. When the position limit was reduced to 50% during COVID-19, liquidity and volatility increased in the spot and futures markets. We further calculated the spot and futures volatility for the companies triggered more than five times MWPL and found that spot volatility and liquidity increased during the ban period. Further, during a highly volatile period like COVID-19, the regulatory intervention to reduce the MWPL helps to improve the market's quality.

IIM Raipur started Advanced Certificate Program for Aspiring Entrepreneurs in collaboration with SIDBI

The Advanced Certificate Program in Entrepreneurship and New Venture Creation, known as SWAVALAMBAN Skill to Enterprise Model (STEM), jointly launched by IIM Raipur and SIDBI. The 18-month program is intended to give 30 would-be business owners the abilities and information they need to launch and grow profitable ventures.

After the application deadline for the Advanced Certificate Program in Entrepreneurship and New Venture Creation, SWAVALAMBAN Skill to Enterprise Model (STEM) at the Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Raipur has been prolonged. This 18-month program, in partnership with the Small Industries Development Bank of India (SIDBI), aims to provide 30 early-stage entrepreneurs with the necessary skills and knowledge to start and expand their businesses successfully—applicants who applied for this life-changing program.

According to Prof. Ram Kumar Kakani, Director of IIM Raipur, supporting entrepreneurs in their early stages is vital for India's growth vision for 2047. In partnership with SIDBI, we were delighted to present this program, offering hands-on training and guidance from experienced professionals to help develop future business leaders.

The SWAVALAMBAN program offers a blended curriculum, combining academic and Professional mentorship. The 30 selected entrepreneurs will gain practical, real-world training from industry leaders, while also engaging in case studies and field experiments to develop an entrepreneurial mindset.

The advantages of This Program:

Blended Learning Experience: A combination of online and offline modules for a comprehensive education.

Practical Training: Case studies and exercises where participants can apply their learning directly to their ventures.

One-on-One Mentoring: Personalized guidance from industry veterans to support entrepreneurs through their journey.

The curriculum is led by the esteemed faculties of IIM Raipur, including Prof. Satyasiba Das, Program Director; Prof. Saroj Kumar Pani, Co-Director; and Prof. S. Ram Kumar, Program Member.

The unique opportunity for aspiring entrepreneurs from Chhattisgarh to transform their business ideas into reality. Interested candidates are encouraged to apply by the extended deadline to secure your place in this career-defining program.

IIM Raipur and Academy of Digital Health Sciences stated the 4th Batch of Digital Health Programmes

The fourth batch of the Post Graduate Certificate Programme in Digital Health (PGCPDH) and Diploma Programme in Digital Health (DPDH) has begun, thanks to a partnership between the Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Raipur and the Academy of Digital Health Sciences. The goal of the one-year PGCPDH and DPDH programs is to give aspiring leaders a thorough understanding of the rapidly changing field of digital health. On August 1, 2024, registration for both programs opened.

The certificate programs will impart in-depth exposure through a curriculum that covers a wide range of medical and technological areas, including telemedicine, data analytics, digital health policies, entrepreneurship, and more, delivered through comprehensive online classes. The participants will be assessed based on a Quiz at the end of each chapter & module Dissertation/ Internship of 4 weeks.

The curriculum is divided into 3 levels-Basic Level: Theoretical aspects of digital health, Advanced Level: Technological & management aspects of digital health and Professional Level: Application aspects of digital health with use cases.

Prof. Ram Kumar Kakani, Director of IIM Raipur encouraged the students by stating, “Our partnership with the Academy of Digital Sciences reflects on IIM Raipur’s focus on improving Indian Healthcare ecosystem. The programmes co-developed are a perfect blend of technological and traditional knowledge, giving participants the best of both worlds. I would encourage the students to embrace this chance to deepen their knowledge, expand their networks, and build themselves as a future leader in this transformative field.” Aspiring candidates possessing a graduation degree or its equivalent with the age of 25 years as on February 2024 can apply for the Diploma Programme in Digital Health. It is to be noted that applicants with professional degrees are exempted from the minimum age criteria. As part of the PGCPDH and DPDH, participants will have the opportunity to attend a three-day personal immersion programme at IIM Raipur offering them hands-on learning and networking opportunities.

Endorsed by the International Society for Telemedicine & eHealth (ISfTeH), Switzerland, and the European Connected Health Alliance (ECHAlliance), these initiated programs open up a wide scope for students in terms of career growth. Consequently, empowering future leaders to spearhead positive change and drive transformative advancements in the healthcare sector.

IIM Raipur MBA Students Visited Sarda Energy & Minerals Limited Company, Raipur

Sarda Energy & Minerals Limited (SEML) is a flagship company of the Sarda Group, specializing in steel and ferro alloys production, with a fully integrated plant in Raipur, Chhattisgarh. Upon arrival at SEML, the students were introduced to the company's operations through a presentation detailing its historical evolution, key business units, and sustainability initiatives.

As MBA students, they were presented with deeper insights into the company's long-term vision and strategy, the visit proved to be an opportunity for fostering industrial operations knowledge among the students while bridging the gap between academic knowledge and practical applicability. It offered a multifaceted learning experience, allowing students to witness the strategic, operational, and technological components of a large-scale manufacturing setting. The objective of the visit was to understand SEML's technological advancements, management practices, and sustainability efforts. The students received exposure to key aspects of, operational efficiency in sponge iron production and power generation, the role of cross-functional leadership in overseeing large-scale industrial operations, sustainability measures and how they align with the company's long-term strategic goals, financial and risk management practices in mitigating industry-specific challenges, such as fluctuating commodity prices and environmental regulations.

Gyan Series

Shri Chandan Chatterjee, Vice Chairman of the Board at Finncham, for the 26th chapter of the Gyan Series. With over 25 years of extensive leadership experience in the technology sector, spanning infrastructure, SaaS, and professional services, Shri Chatterjee is a seasoned visionary. He is also a Chevening Award Scholar from the London Business School and has played a pivotal role in leading Nokia through significant transitions across 3G, 4G, and 5G cycles. Moreover, he spearheaded the development of an award-winning AI-based contract management tool.

Shri Chatterjee's experience extends beyond the corporate world, serving as a mentor for tech, healthcare, and ESG startups, as well as a board member at the International School of Helsinki, where he led a successful turnaround.

The session, titled "Life is Like a Box of Chocolates," was a thought-provoking exploration of both professional and personal challenges. Shri Chandan Chatterjee captivated the audience with his unique insights on navigating life's unpredictability, drawing parallels between the surprises in life and the metaphor of a box of chocolates. He emphasized the importance of agility and open-mindedness in leadership, stressing how embracing uncertainty and change can lead to personal growth and business success.

Shri Chatterjee also highlighted the significance of building resilience in the face of challenges and setbacks. His reflections on leadership in the modern business landscape, particularly in rapidly evolving sectors like technology, left the audience with valuable lessons on embracing complexity and leading with purpose.

The session concluded with an interactive Q&A, where participants engaged with Shri Chatterjee on topics ranging from leadership strategies to the future of AI and emerging technologies. His profound insights, backed by real-world experiences, provided a wealth of knowledge for all in attendance.
